If you require Medicaid assistance our services are available on an hourly basis.

Family Meeting

We begin with a personal meeting to become familiar with your needs and desires. You can ask lots of questions and help us to understand your lifestyle preferences.

Next, we check the availability of your preferred locations. We will only recommend accommodations that we have visited in person and that meet our high standards. They must be a match for your needs and desires.

Visit Together

We schedule tours of your top three or four options and will gladly accompany you on the tours. During the tours we will ask questions that you may not think of and can help keep track of the details from each community.

A Confident Decision

If desired, we can prepare a comparison of the advantages of each location so that you and your family can make an informed and confident decision.

We will meet with you and discuss the options that provide the best balance of features, pricing and convenience

We are here to help

Nancy Watkins has spent six years serving seniors and their families, representing assisted living communities and working with other long-term care providers in Washington. She developed the first state-specific and Aging and Disability Services Administration approved comprehensive training program for managers of assisted living communities and helped to rewrite Washington's
